My work at Luminucx as a Junior web developer, then a Flutter front-end developer has given me a well-rounded understanding of the ins and out of web development, having published apps and websites myself in flutter and angular. Although a high school student, if evaluate on the basis of experience and skill I believe I am an excellent candidate for this position. I esteem the much-needed value 3Hnovation is giving to the world, in cybersecurity. Making our world a safer place cyber-wise, aligns with my values and direction. This position would be a great opportunity to give excellent value at 3Hnovation and advance my career.
